Examination of the Questionists.

The Vicechancellor, at the Desire of the Proctors, appoints the Time when the public Examinations of the Questionists are to begin.

It is usually the first Monday in the Lent Term; and the Registry gives Notice of the Time, by a Bill fixed on the School Door.

The junior Proctor appoints a Day on which the Questionists are to pay their Fees; and the Registry appoints a Day for Subscription, by a Bill on the School Door.

Those who have not kept all their Exercises (viz. two Acts and two Opponencies) must keep what are deficient, at a Time given Notice of by the Proctors at each College.

The two Proctors, the two Moderators, and two other Persons appointed by Grace (Stat. B. page 39.) are the public Examiners; but every Regent and non-Regent has a Right to examine. Grat. Stat. B. Page 432.

The Days of Examination are, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, from eight o'Clock in the Morning to five in the Afternoon; allowing half an Hour at nine for Breakfast, and from eleven to one for Dinner, and half an Hour at three in the Afternoon; when the Proctors tors treat the Fathers and Compounders with Tea and Coffee.

The Proctors call over the Names of the Questionists, each Time, at their coming into the Senate House, from a List given them by the Moderators; and the Absentees forfeit a Shilling to the Proctors.

The Proctors wear their Congregation Habit during the Days of Examination, and the four Examiners their Hoods hanging down.

The Proctors, Examiners, and the Fathers of the Colleges, usually dine together at a Tavern on the Days of Examination.

The Fellow Commoners dine with them on the three first Days.

On the fourth Day, the Honours are determined by the Proctors, Moderators, and Examiners; who acquaint the Fathers with their Determination.

“ Examinati & approbati a nobis.”

This Paper is signed by the Proctors, the Moderators, and the two other Examiners.

The Name of each College is to be written on every Supplicat, which is to be signed by the Lecturer. Stat. Eliz. de Gratiis concedendis. Stat. B. Page 234.

A Certificate is also given to the Caput, signed by the Master of the College (or his Representative) shewing that each Questionist has kept his full Number of Terms:

But if any one has not kept all his Terms, the Deficiency is mentioned in the Supplicat; and a Certificate, explaining the Cause, is delivered to the Caput by the Lecturer.

4. The Registry shews to the Caput that every Candidate has subscribed in his Book.

5. The Vicechancellor reads each Supplicat to the Caput; and on all that are admitted he writes (Ad).

6. One of the Bedells carries the Supplicats into the non-Regent House to be read by the Scruta-

Scrutators *, and if all are approved, the Scrutators walk, and the Senior says, " Omnes placent." But if any are disapproved, he says, " A. B. &c. non placent ; reliqui placent."

7. The Bedell carries the Supplicats to the Regent House, where the Senior Proctor reads them in the same Manner as the Scrutators have done in the non-Regent House. If all are approved, the Proctors walk, and the Senior says, " Placent omnes, placeat vobis ut intrent."

The Supplicats are then delivered to the Registrar, who writes on them : " Lect : & concess : Die Jan."

In the mean Time, the Questionists put on their Hoods, and the Schoolkeeper gives to each of them a printed Copy of the Oath, he is to take at his Admission.

8. The Vicechancellor takes the Chair, and one of the Bedells having desired the respective Fathers to be in Readiness with their Sons ; he precedes the Father of the senior Wrangler (the rest of the Fathers following with their Sons) to the Vicechancellor. The Father of the senior Wrangler then presents his Son in these Words ;

The Father of King's next presents his Sons in the same Manner.

The Fellow Commoners are then presented, and after them the Questionists of Trinity and St. John's ; and then those of the other Colleges according to the Seniority of the Fathers.

As they are presented, they are directed, by one of the Bedells, to the South Side of the Senate House.

9. When all are presented, the senior Wrangler takes the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy ; and the senior Proctor (with his Brother standing by him) reads to him the printed Oath ;

The Bedell then calls four of the Fellow Commoners, who take the same Oaths * ; and so on with all the Questionists, as their Names stand in the List signed by the Proctors and the Examiners.

When all are sworn, the Vicechancellor goes to the Front of the Table, and the Proctors stand one on each Side.

The senior Wrangler, and all the other Questionists, follow one of the Bedells round the Chair, and as they pass by the Table, they bow to the Vicechancellor and the Proctors.

10. The Vicechancellor returns to the Chair, and the senior Wrangler kneels down before him. The Vicechancellor taking his Hands between his own, admits him in these Words ;

“ Autoritate mihi commissâ, admitto te

The Vicechancellor, Heads (or Presidents) Proctors, and Scrutators, meet in the Senate House, at nine o'Clock in the Morning.

4. The Proctors and Scrutators usually nominate the Lecturers.

The senior Proctor nominates two for the Mathematical:

The junior Proctor two for the Philosophical :

The senior Scrutator two for the Rhetorical :

The junior Scrutator two for the Logical.

Each places that Person's Name first, whom he wishes to have appointed.

A Bedell reads the Nominati &c.

5. The Vicechancellor and the two senior Doctors present, stand in Scrutiny, and the Heads of Colleges (or their Representatives) prick according to Juniority.

6. The Bedell reads from the Paper on which the Lecturers have been nominated and pricked ;

“ Nominati & Punctis notati, in Annum

Pro Rhetorico Prælectore { Mr. E. —Coll.
Mr. F. —Coll.

Pro Logico Prælectore { Mr. G. —Coll.
Mr. H. —Coll.

The Vicechancellor gives this Paper to the senior Proctor, to be published at the Beginning of the next Congregation.

This Congregation must be at ten o'Clock in the Morning of the eleventh or twelfth.

The Bell rings at nine.

1. The Senate being assembled, the Vicechancellor takes the Chair, and a Bedell calls up the Houses.

2. The senior Proctor reads that Part of Sir Robert Read's Grant, which the Bedell read at the former Congregation; and the 40th Stat. Eliz. de Nominatione & Electione Lectorum: he also reads a Part of the 34th Stat. Eliz. beginning at "Electio autem," and publishes the Nominati &c.

3. The Vicechancellor and the two Proctors stand in Scrutiny, and the Bedell calls "Ad Scrutinium pro Electione Prælectoris Mathematici."

The Votes are brought up in this Form;

"A. B. eligit Mrum. C. D. in Prælectorem
" Mathematicum, in Annum sequentem."

Whilst the Votes are delivered, the Bedell, at Intervals, calls;

“ Ad Scrutinium secundo,

“ Ad Scrutinium ultimo.”

and,

“ Cessatum est à Scrutinio.”

4. The Votes are then given to the senior Proctor who reads them as in other Elections; and declares the Election in this Form;

“ Ego A. B. senior Procurator hujus Aca-
“ demix, eligo, & electum à vobis pronuncio
“ Mrum. C. D. in Prælectorem Mathemati-
“ cum, in Annum sequentem.”

The other Lecturers are then elected, and their Election declared by the Proctor, in the same Form.

5. The Elections being finished, the Caput is called to pass the Graces for Bachelors in Divinity*.

When these Graces are read in both Houses the Registry writes on each: “ Lect. & Concess.

* The following Grace is also passed for a private Commencement.

“ Placeat vobis ut Creationes omnes tam Inceptorum in singu-

The Candidates for the Degrees of B. D. follow the Vicechancellor to his Lodge, to ask Leave to proceed: after which they visit the rest of the Caput, the Heads, and all the Doctors in the Faculty.

The Bell begins to ring at one: the Senate meets at two o'clock,

1. The Supplicats for Bachelors Degrees are read and passed in both Houses, by the Scrutiny of $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Placet} \\ \text{non placet.} \end{array} \right.$

2. The Proctors go into the non-Regent House, with their Books, and sit together on the Bench at the upper End of the House.

3. The Bedell having directed all the Candidates for B. D. Degrees to be in Readiness, he precedes the Professor in Divinity into the non-Regent House, where the Professor arranges his Sons according to their Seniority.

4. The Professor preceded by the Bedell, goes with his Sons to the Proctors; to whom he presents them in these Words;

“ Dignissimi Domini Procuratores, & tota

“ Viros, quos scio tam Moribus quam Doc-

5. When all are presented, each Person kneels down before the senior Proctor, who taking his Hands between his own, says ;

“ Autoritate nobis commissâ, nos admitti-
“ mus te ad opponendum in Sacrâ Theologiâ,
“ in Nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus Sancti.”

6. The Professor, preceded by the Bedell goes to the Vicechancellor ; and presents them thus ;

“ Dignissime Domine, Domine Procancel“ larie & tota Universitas, præsentō vobis re-
“ verendos hosce Viros, quos scio tam Mori-

“ meâ præsto, totique Academiæ.”

When the Professor has presented them all, he takes his Place among the Doctors.

7. They take the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy, and the senior Proctor administers to them the usual Oath, “ Jurabis quod ea omnia,
“ &c.”

8. The Vicechancellor, and the two Proctors, go to the Table, and stand in Scrutiny of { Scio

The Bedell goes with his Staff to the Professor, who comes to the Table and marks the Scio Line ; whilst the Bedell calls,

10. The Vicechancellor takes the Chair, and each Candidate kneeling down before him, he admits them in these Words ;

“ Authoritate mihi commissâ, admitto te ad

“ Nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus Sancti.”

This Business of the Admissions is not deferred, should the eleventh fall on a Sunday, as in the Year 1786; when the morning Congregation was at ten o’Clock and that in the Afternoon at two.

When the Professors are in Readiness, the Bedell directs the commencing Doctors in Divinity to put on their Copes; and the Doctors in Law and Physic their Robes *. Another Bedell precedes the Professors of Divinity, Law, and Physic, to the East End of the Senate House, where the Professor of Divinity arranges his Sons, according to the Seniority which he gives them.

The Professors of Law and Physic do the same.

The Bedell then precedes the Professor of Divinity with his Sons to the Vicechancellor's Chair, in Front of the Table; the other Professors following with their Sons. When the commencing Doctors in Divinity are here arranged according to the Seniority given them by the Professor, he takes the Chair, and the two Proctors take their Places at their Table, sitting with their Caps on. The senior Proctor taking off his Cap, says,

“ Venerande Pater, ad Creationem.”

† The senior Proctor brings the Seniority List of the Masters to this Congregation. He writes, “ Ordo Senioritatis Magistrorum in Artibus Comitii 17—” He signs this List and gives it to one of the Bedells, who, at the End of the Congregation gives it to the Registry.

PROCEEDING TO ALL DEGREES.

For the Degree of B. A.

HE must reside in the University during the major Part of twelve several Terms, except of the first and of the last.

When these Terms are compleated, he pays his Fees (See Page 78) to the junior Proctor, and goes to the Registry to subscribe, and pays the Fee as in Page 88. If he is to take his Degree out of the regular Time, he goes to the Moderators, Proctors, and Examiners to be examined; and takes a Certificate under their Hands in this Form;

“ A. B. Coll. Examinatus & approbatus,
“ à nobis { C. D.
 { E. F.

He

He must also have a Certificate under the Hand and Seal of the Master of the College, or his Representative, signifying that he has kept the whole Number of Terms, or specifying those which he has missed.

Before the Congregation in which he is to be admitted ad respondendum Quæstioni, he goes to the Soph's Schools, and huddles for that Part of the Exercise (viz. two Acts and two Opponencies) which has not been kept.

His Supplicat, dated and signed by the Lecturer of his College (see Page 69) is then presented to the Caput, and with it the Certificate under the Hand of the Master, of his having kept the necessary Number of Terms, and the Certificate of the Examiners.

If he has been prevented keeping any Part of the twelve Terms, a Certificate * must be also given to the Caput, shewing the Cause: and the same Reason is to be inserted in the Supplicat. (See Stat. B. Page 324.)

When the Supplicat has passed the Caput, it is carried by the Bedell into the non-Regent House, and is read, and walked with, by the Scrutators. It is then read, and walked with, by the Præctors, in the Regent House.

* In case of Sickness; from a Physician or &c.

He is then presented to the Vicechancellor; takes the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy, and the senior Proctor administers to him the Oath of Admission.

He kneels down before the Vicechancellor, who admits him in the usual Form, Ad respondendum Quæstioni.

If a Person is admitted ad respondendum Quæstioni between the regular Time, and Ash-Wednesday, he is called Bachelor ad Diem Cinerum.

If he is admitted between Ash-Wednesday* and the regular Time, he is called Bachelor ad Baptistam.

If he is admitted after the second Tripos and the 14th Jan. following, he is to reckon the Number of Terms necessary for the Degree of M. A. from the second Tripos Day, which follows his Admission. See Grace, May 14, 1628, in Stat. Book, Page 378.

No Supplicat is offered for a Fellow of King's to be admitted ad respondendum Quæstioni, but a Grace is shewn to the Caput (see the Form, Page 69) and read by the senior Proctor in the Regent House only. This Grace is an Application to the Regents, for their Leave to enter the Regent House, for Admission.

* If he is admitted any Time after Ash-Wednesday, he is to reckon the Number of Terms for the Degree of M. A. in the same Manner, with him who is admitted after the second Tripos, and the 14th Jan. following.

The Manner of making Appeals, and of choosing Delegates.

An Appeal may be made from the Determination of the Vicechancellor to Delegates.

The Appellant takes with him a Notary Public, and lodges the Appeal with the Vicechancellor, within two Days after Sentence is pronounced.

At this Time the Appellant, and his Proctor (if any) take their Oath, that there has been just Cause given to appeal, and that they will not, either directly or indirectly, solicit those who are to chuse the Delegates, to appoint any particular Persons.

Within three Days after Sentence, he gives Notice to one of the Proctors, of his having appealed.

According to Tabor's Book, he is to take with him the Registrary, or a Notary Public, to make an Act of what is done.

He tenders to the Proctor twenty two Shillings, and desires him to go to the Vicechancellor, and inhibit him from proceeding any further in the Cause, during the Appeal.

Immediately after this Notice, the Proctor inhibits the Vicechancellor.

Two Shillings of the above Sum is the Proctor's tor's Fee. The twenty Shillings are to remain in his Hands, and are to be returned to the Appellant, if he has appealed justly; but are to be paid by the Proctor to the University Chest, if he has appealed unjustly (temerè), or if he gives up the Prosecution after the Appointment of Delegates, or if any Delay is made in the Cause by his Fault.

The Party appealed against, and his Council, are also to take their Oaths, that they will not solicit those who have Power to chuse the Delegates.

This Oath is also taken before the Vicechancellor.

The Bell rings for the Act at one o'clock.

By 26th Stat. Eliz. all Bachelors in Divinity, and all Masters of Arts, after their fourth Year, who have not declared for Law or Physic, are to keep Acts according to their Seniority.

If any one responds for a Degree, a Day out of the common Course is allowed him by the Professor; or he may take the Turn of some other Person appointed in the Paper, who keeps the Act on the second Thursday following.

If any one, appointed in the Paper, does not keep his Act in the regular Order, the Turn drops, and the Penalty for the first Omission is two Pounds, for the second, three Pounds, and for every Omission after, five Pounds, until the Act is kept, or the Name taken off the College Boards.

The Opponencies are appointed in the same Order as the morning Sermons, and are kept
